

As a NJ resident, I am proud of the stricter laws governing telemarketing. I don't get the DO NOT CALL law. Shouldn't DO NOT CALL mean DO NOT CALL for every company? Personally, I do not want every company that pays for a list of phone numbers to harass me from the time I get up in the morning until I threaten to file a harassment suit against them when I'm ready to go to bed. NJ may have it's faults but in this case, I think the rest of the country can model their Law with NJ.
